DOESN'T LOOK LIKE DIPLOMAT, BUT—

LORD ROBERT CECIL

He outlined the British draft for a league constitution which was used along with those of Wilson and General Smuts in framing the pact. WEED SITUATION IN WEBER COUNTY IS NOT GOOD

In an effort to eradicate noxious weeds in this county, last Saturday afternoon, passed upon the following petition and it was this morning filed with the county commissioners for action: "Board of Commissioners, Weber County, Utah. Gentlemen: Pursuant to a motion passed at a meeting of the directors of the Weber County Farm bureau, representing every section of the county, held Saturday, May 24th, 1919, we desire to file with your honorable body the following statement and petition for your early consideration: "Investigation by our weed committee, county agent and crop pest inspector has brought out the fact that the weed situation in Weber county must have immediate and serious attention; especially in the eradication of white-top. There have been located by the above mentioned parties, thirty-seven patches of white-top and reports have come in of a large number more in the county. Unless quick action is taken by the county and farmers, large areas of the best farming land in the county is in danger of being infested with this noxious weed. "We have also found that the weed campaign inaugurated four years ago at the request of the Weber County Farm bureau has been very successful in the eradication of burdock, bull-thistle, Canada thistle and cockle-bur from the county but the campaign must be continued if the desired results are to be obtained. We are also pleased to inform your honorable body that due to the progressive action of county officials, Weber was the first county in the state to consider the weed question, and that these counties, i. e., Cache, Box Elder, Davis, Morgan, Salt Lake and Utah, are now inaugurating campaigns on weed eradication. "We, therefore, petition your honorable body at this time to inaugurate a campaign similar to that of the past two years for the eradication of noxious weeds in Weber county, thereby putting into force the state weed law as passed by the last session of the legislature, and allow no noxious weeds to go to seed on county roads, canals, railroad rights-of-way, and private property. "In this campaign you may be as-

COMING NEXT SUNDAY — 4 DAYS
BUCKAROO

He came out of a New York club, this young Teddy Drake, the Knickerbocker buckaroo played by Douglas Fairbanks. He was filled with a desire to get out into the world and do something for somebody. So he goes West. His first victim for assistance is the leader of an outlaw band with whom he changes places and leads a rascally sheriff a merry chase. In doing so he meets Mercedes, imprisoned on a fake charge of smuggling. With her he falls in love.

His sole ambition is to rescue the girl and prevent the sheriff and his villainous henchmen from stealing the money Mercedes and her brother have been forced to conceal in their old Mexican home. Teddy is captured and thrown into jail, from which he escapes himself. Thereon ensues enough chasing complications to fill every foot of these 6,700 feet of film with thrills and laughter. Each new move hurls the hero into fresh trouble until he finally outwits the gang, wins the girl, saves her fortune and beats it for 42nd Street and Broadway.

The biggest and best Fairbanks picture ever produced. Whole cities were built for this and an entire railroad system leased. It took six months to make and cost $264,000. Without doubt, the money-picture, par excellence.

OF OGDEN—

COOL

Dear Miss Nevertofast:

Nutty about speeding, that's what young Waldon was.

Also, he was nutty about "The Cub," who was the pretty daughter of "The Bear."

"The Bear" was an automobile manufacturer who turned out racing automobiles.

And Waldon was one of his salesmen.

A good salesman he was, too, till one day the Boss bawled him out. And Waldon arose on his hind legs, so to speak, and quit.

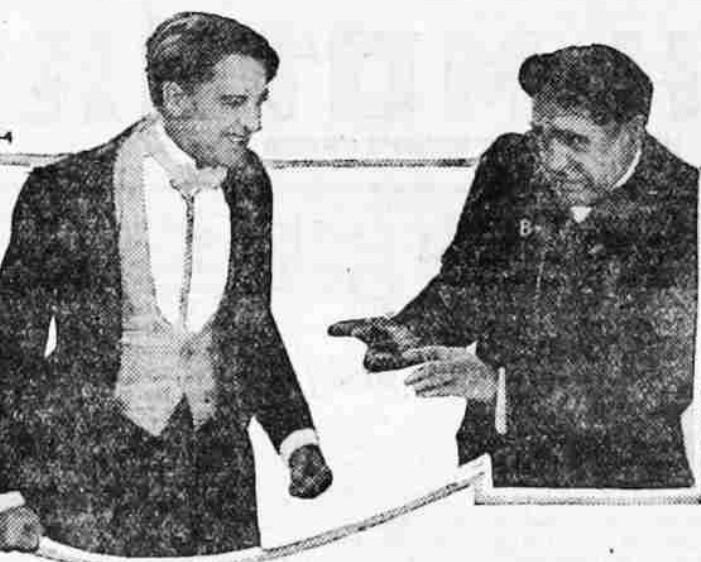

But "The Bear" wasn't going to lose the peppiest young salesman he had. He signed him up as general manager.

Young Waldon took the job—it paid $5,000 a year, and there was no reason why he shouldn't. But he was after "The Cub."

He had to break all speed records to finally win. He tore up the road till they called it "The Roaring Road."

Which is the name of Wallace Reid's latest Paramount vehicle. It comes here Wednesday and Thursday.

Don't miss it, is our advice.

He simply had to convince the girl that he wasn't a fake. To convince her, he had to open that safe.

But he didn't know the combination. That's easy: Chop the safe out of the wall: but there's still the door to open!

He wanted "something to do." He had his hands full. You'll have YOUR hands full too, holding your sides laughing at Bryant Washburn's antics in "Something To Do."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH HAS SUNDAY

Yesterday was indeed a great day for the Christian Church, corner of Twenty-fourth street and Madison avenue, where Evangelist Daniels is holding revival meetings. To begin with, the aim of the Sunday school was for 100 in attendance. When the final report was made it was found that there were 106, the largest attendance ever had. At the morning service there was a very large attendance. The solo of Mrs. Miller was exceptionally touching, being one of the Mother songs. Many said that Dr. Daniels outdid himself in the sermon he gave the people. His tribute to Mother and to motherhood was very effective. His picture or the wrong and right kind of home went straight to the hearts of his hearers and many thought of their former homes, where Mother reigned supreme in her gentle loving way. He finally led the people to the consideration of the Heavenly Home. At the invitation there were five who took their place in the church membership.

At three o'clock Dr. Daniels spoke to about twenty of the little folk at the church and at 7 o'clock a very interesting Christian Endeavor meeting was held when Mr. Davis, of Salt Lake and Mr. Daniels, the Evangelist, gave short talks on the Pledge. At 8 o'clock the house was filled with people who came for the patriotic service and much interest was manifested. At the close Dr. Daniels showed the pictures of the great leaders and the flags of countries engaged in the great world war. Services will continue at the Christian church during all of this week.
